Mark, I am submitting a great offer today, I am just waiting for their attorney to review first thing in the A.M. If all goes well, I should have it to you before noon. With that said, I am just concerned about the time left prior to foreclosure. The offer I am presenting will be at 525,000. I will have the HUD in the a.m., but we should be at our mark with that one. Is it too late to postpone?
